DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Claims 1-9 as amended are still in consideration for this application. Applicant has canceled no claims. Applicant has added claims 7-9.
2. Examiner withdraws the 112-second paragraph rejection based on applicant's claim amendment.
3. Examiner withdraws the anticipated rejection to Rich for Office action filed 03/10/04. See 112-first paragraph rejection and new rejection below.
4. Examiner notes the 102(e) date for applicant's continuation is August 28, 2000 and thus applicant is not entitled to a priority date of December 28, 1998 in reference to applicant's remarks on page 7, second full paragraph. See Notice of Acceptance of Application Under 35 U.S.C. 371 mailed 9/13/2000.
5. No PTO form 1449 was found for IDS filed 7/8/2002. However, the two references applicant refers to have been added to PTO form 892 such that the references are now considered. These two references and corresponding search report were found in the application.
6. Examiner withdraws the obviousness rejection to Rich in view of Kim for Office action filed 03/10/04. Examiner agrees with applicant that the newly amended claim limitation switching the second antenna to the first, originally-selected antenna, to perform handoff processing is not taught by the cited references.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

7. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

8. Claims 4-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. In particular, the issue is the newly added limitation “then delaying the first intermediate frequency signal by at least a reciprocal of a chip rate in the CDMA system”. Specifically at issue is the determined value of the delay. First, applicant did not provide support for applicant’s amendment in Applicant’s Remarks. As to the specification, examiner notes claim 4 is directed to applicant’s second embodiment taught, inter alia, at pages page 18, line 9 – page 27. For example, see applicant’s figure 5 where the issue is the value set for the delay circuit 23. Absent from page 20, lines 6-14 is the specific setting for time t of delay circuit 23. Further evidence is also found at the bottom of page 25 which does not specify a value for delay circuit 23. Examiner notes that applicant mentions that the delay time of multipath received by each of the antennas 10 and 18 is smaller than the chip rate, see e.g., bottom of page 25. The only support the examiner could find is in reference to applicant’s Background on page 5, lines 1-15. Specifically, applicant teaches that the prior art search 16a is a reciprocal of a chip rate in the prior art CDMA system and that if a delay time of the multipath is smaller than the reciprocal, the multipath components are separated in the fingers 16b, 16c, and 16d such that the symbols cannot be synthesized. However, no logic is drawn from the above statement to the specific setting of delay circuit 23 in applicant’s figure 5. In particular, examiner notes the above statement references the rake receiver and specifically symbol synthesizer 16e which is separate and distinct from delay circuit 23 which interfaces with synthesizer 24. In addition, the further limitation of by at least a reciprocal was not found. No support was further found in applicant's specification including applicant's drawings. Applicant is requested to provide page and line numbers of where the above limitation at issue is found in applicant's specification. Applicant is further reminded that no new subject matter may be added to applicant's specification. Claims 5 and 6 stand rejected for depending on a rejected base claim.

For the purpose of the rejection(s) below the examiner assumes the limitation would have been obvious to one skilled in the art since only support the examiner found was mentioned in applicant's background.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. Claims 4-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent No. 6,229,840 B1 to Ichihara in further view of U.S. Patent No. 5,940,452 to Rich.

As to claim 4, see figure 1 (or figure 5) of Ichihara. A first antenna is shown as 101. A second antenna is shown as 102. A reception means is shown as part of combiner 106. In particular, a first intermediate-frequency signal (a) is delayed using delay T 105, see e.g., column 2, lines 56-67 and column 3, lines 23-26.

Not shown in figure 1 is the further recitation that a first antenna is also capable of transmitting. In particular, figure 1 only shows a reception circuit.

Rich teaches the above limitation e.g., in figure 1 where antenna 114 is 116 is capable of both transmission and reception.

Thus examiner proposes to modify Ichihara to further include transmission.

Examiner notes that it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art prior to applicant's invention to include a transmission section for only one antenna. In particular, one skilled in the art would have been motivated to modify the above reference for the purpose of having the mobile system transmit as well as receive. As such, Rich discloses the above motivation found e.g., in figure 1 since the base station 104 receives a transmitted signal 162 from antenna 116. Examiner furthermore notes that Rich also teaches combining signals in a third state.

As to claims 5-6, signal evaluation means is taught as part of figure 6 in Rich since the stronger signal is selected.

Allowable Subject Matter

11. Claims 1-3 and 7-9 are allowable.

Conclusion

12. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

Art Unit: 2663

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
